

LCAP 1-18-40

Cornerstones Will Be Placed This Afternoon

Auditorium and Stock Arena To Be Dedicated at Junior College

CONESTONES OF THE $295-521.48 auditorium and the $148-263.57 livestock arena at the Lake Charles Junior college will be laid today at 2 and 7 p.m., respectively, with Acting President Paul Hebert of Louisiana State university expected to be present.

Here following in full is the program scheduled for the auditorium: Invocation at 2 p.m.—the Rev. Theo H. Wegner, pastor of St. Johns Lutheran church; master of ceremonies—Dr. Joe Farrar, dean of the junior college; W. E. Holbrook, president of the police jury; Dr. Paul Hebert, acting president of L. S. U.; Charles D. Evans, resident Works Progress administration engineer; I. V. Maurer, president of the Association of Commerce; E. R. Kaufman, prominent local attorney and banker; and George M. Billio, member of the L. S. U. board of supervisors—representing their various

(Continued on Page SEVEN, Col. 2)

Cornerstones—
LCAP 1-18-40

(Continued from Page ONE)

organizations, institutions and the public.

Box Documents

C. W. Gabbert, secretary-treasurer of the police jury, will present documents for the box which will be placed inside the cornerstone. R. R. Fleming, vice president of the police jury will seal the box and Mr. Kaufman will lay the cornerstone. Benediction will be asked by the Rev. H. L. Johns, pastor of the First Methodist church.

After laying the auditorium cornerstone a similar ceremony is scheduled to begin at 3 p.m. for the livestock arena. Here following in full is the program:

Invocation—the Rev. C. W. Rodgers, pastor of the Simpson Methodist church; master of ceremonies—Dean Farrar, Mr. Holbrook, L. S. U.'s Dr. Hebert, P. W. A.'s Mr. Evans, Mr. Baillio and Mr. Maurer—representing again their respective organizations.

A. L. Gayle

A. L. Gayle, president of the Southwest Louisiana Fat Stock Show and Rodeo; A. R. Fleming, president of the Calcasieu Cattle-men's association; Frank A. Smith of the Lake Charles American Press; Harry G. Chalkley, chairman of the agricultural committee and president of the Louisiana Farm bureau, will represent their respective groups and the public.

C. C. Collet, parish agricultural agent, R. F. Cisco, Association of Commerce manager, and C. W. Gabbert of the police jury will present letters and documents for the box which will be sealed by Mr. Collet and laid by A. L. Gayle. Benediction will be asked by the Rev. George F. Wharton, rector of the Church of the Good Shepherd.